Online Games Makers was created out of necessity. No other site online is following games makers and games developing companies and gives them credit for their work.

We want you to find out about the manufacturers of your favorite online games and we will soon have a new online system that will allow all users to submit their favorite games for our reviews and if the manufacturer does not appear on the site yet, we will 'hunt' the manufacturers and get you all their info.

The Online Games Makers Magazine will issue a newsletter starting January 1st 2008, registration starts soon... so keep your eyes open.
